It is with great pleasure that the Editorial Board of the University of Baltimore Law Forum presents the first issue of the 2014-2015 academic year. Founded in 1970, the University of Baltimore Law Forum serves to provide the legal community with meaningful contributions of scholarly articles and recent developments in Maryland law. The current volume is a reflection of the scholastic achievement and hard work of the University of Baltimore Law Forum student editorial board.

The current issue contains three articles that showcase Law Forum's second annual symposium: Refining Maryland Law in a Technological World. The Symposium will consist of four panel discussions, where leading minds in various legal fields will present their articles and research on emerging issues regarding technology in Maryland law.

The recent development pieces examine eight of this past year's most interesting and controversial cases decided by the Court of Appeal of Maryland. These pieces are intended to assist Maryland practitioners and the legal community in keeping abreast of rapidly changing laws within the State of Maryland.

Finally, I would like to thank all members of the University of Baltimore Law Forum for their time, dedication, and hard work. Additionally, I wish to thank Professor Elizabeth J. Samuels for her continued dedication, support, and assistance as Law Forum's faculty advisor. On behalf of the University of Baltimore Law Forum, we thank the members of the Maryland legal community, our readers, for their continued support.

Sincerely,

Katelyn P. Vu
