The University of Baltimore Journal of International Law is managed by law students of the University of Baltimore School of Law.

Copyright © 2015-2016 University of Baltimore Journal of International Law. All rights reserved.
The Journal welcomes submissions from any authors not currently enrolled in law school. Manuscripts should adhere to The Bluebook, A Uniform System of Citations (20th ed. 2015) and The Texas Law Review Manual on Usage & Style (12th ed. 2011). All manuscripts may be submitted to jil@ubalt.edu.

University of Baltimore Journal of International Law (Print)
ISSN 2471-6731

University of Baltimore Journal of International Law (Online)
ISSN 2471-6723

Please address all correspondence to:
The University of Baltimore Journal of International Law
University of Baltimore School of Law
Attn: Journal of International Law
1420 North Charles Street,
Baltimore, Maryland 21201

For questions or concerns, contact the journal at: jil@ubalt.edu.

The opinions expressed herein are those of the respective authors and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of The University of Baltimore Journal of International Law.
JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW

MASTHEAD 2015-2016

EDITORIAL BOARD

Editor in Chief
Managing Editor
Production Editor
Articles Editor
Publication Editor
Submissions Editor
Comments Editor
Emerging Issues Editor
Acquisitions & Technology Editor

Christopher Stock
Suzanne De Deyne
Julia Brent
Kaitlin Evans
Katherine Adams
Kathryn McNally
Ali Rickart
Laurie Culkin
Alex Adler

ASSOCIATE EDITORS

Kimberly Frazier
Carisa Hatfield

Erin Maze
Jenny Melendez

Tim Jarman
Victoria Narducci

STAFF EDITORS

Alison Aminzadeh
Raiven Taylor
Paul Bianchi
Aviana Cooper

Ruby Devine
Iram Ashraf
Catherine Stitely
Robert Steininger

Kymberleigh Albites
Margery Beltran
Sarah Trego

FACULTY ADVISOR

Professor Mortimer Sellers
Dear Readers,

The Editorial Board and Staff of the University of Baltimore Journal of International Law have worked diligently to ensure the second and final issue of Volume 4 provides our readers with pieces that are both compelling and significant. The superior works published in this edition reflect the Journal’s ongoing expansion and increasing ability to bridge together our community with an exceptional global network of talented lawyers, professors, and practitioners.

Last spring the University of Baltimore Center for International and Comparative Law hosted the Conselho Nacional de Pesquisa e Pós-Graduação em Direito (CONPEDI). This group of Brazilian scholars discussed “The International Protection of Human Rights as seen from Brazil and the U.S.A.” With the help of Professor Marcelo Galuppo, the Journal coordinated with three Brazilian scholars to publish their works in this Issue.

The Issue begins with a piece by Thaís Vandresen and Maria Cláudia S. Antunes de Souza. Their article, Globalization, Global Governance and Challenges to Contemporary Constitutionalism: the (trans) Constitutional Perspective and the Dialogue Among Jurisdictions, discusses the challenges facing contemporary constitutionalism. This article is followed by Jose Sampaio and Beatriz Costa’s article, The Role of Brazil and United States in the International Promotion of the Right to a Healthy Environment. In this article the authors examine the role Brazil and the United States play in protecting the right to a healthy environment. Ricardo Gueiros Bernardes Dias writes our final article. His article, A Comparative Empirical Study of Negotiation in Criminal Proceedings Between Brazil and the United States of America, reflects the findings of a first-hand investigation that he conducted in Brazil and the United States on the mechanisms for truth in criminal negotiations.

Our Student Comment in this Issue is from University of Baltimore School of Law J.D. Candidate, Margery R. Beltran. Ms. Beltran’s comment, Not Really a Battle of the Sexes: Women’s Health Agenda Advocates Global Equality in Medical Research Trials and Drug Administration, advocates for a global healthcare system in which men and women are treated as biologically different, but socially and psychologically equal. Our Emerging Issues are from University of Baltimore School of Law J.D. Candidates, Aviana Cooper and Iram Ashraf. Ms. Cooper’s piece discusses the lawsuit filed by TransCanada against the United States over the Cancellation of Keystone XL Pipeline Project. Ms. Ashraf’s article focuses on the humanitarian issues surrounding the 2022 FIFA World Cup in Qatar.

The aforementioned articles along with additional commentary and previous publications from the Journal of International Law can be found on the Journal’s official website, https://ublawjil.wordpress.com/ and on the University of Baltimore’s ScholarWorks page, http://scholarworks.law.ubalt.edu/ubjil/.

Finally, I would like to thank those who served on the Journal’s Staff and Editorial Board. Without your support, commitment, and dedication we would not be able to produce consistent high quality publications. In addition, I would like to thank our advisor, Professor Mortimer Sellers, for his incredible guidance, faith, and mentorship. Also, on behalf of the Journal, I extend our greatest thanks to Dean Ronald Weich and the University of Baltimore School of Law for recognizing and encouraging the talent embodied in the University of Baltimore Law students, faculty, and staff and for continuing to support this remarkable group. Finally, thank you, the reader, for your support and we hope you enjoy this Issue.

It is with great pleasure that we present the second Issue of Volume 4 of The University of Baltimore Journal of International Law.

Sincerely,

Christopher P. Stock
Editor-in-Chief

University of Baltimore Journal of International Law
Volume IV 2015-2016
TABLE OF CONTENTS

ARTICLES

Globalization, Global Governance, and Challenges to Contemporary Constitutionalism: the (Trans) Constitutional Perspective and the Dialogue among Jurisdictions.............................................................1
   Thais Vandresen & Maria Claudia S. Antunes de Souza

The Role of Brazil and the United States in the International Promotion of the Right to a Healthy Environment..............................................25
   Jose Sampaio & Beatriz Costa

A Comparative Empirical Study of Negotiation in Criminal Proceedings Between Brazil and the United States of America.....................59
   Ricardo Gueiros Bernardes Dias

STUDENT COMMENT

Not Really a Battle of the Sexes: Women’s Health Agenda Advocates Global Equality in Medical Research Trials and Drug Administration...............................................................97
   Margery Beltran

EMERGING ISSUES

Transcanada v. Obama Administration- 15 Billion for Cancellation of the Keystone XL Pipeline Project.........................................................125
   Aviana Cooper

FIFA World Cup 2022: Enjoying the Game at the Suffering of Migrant Workers.................................................................133
   Iram Ashraf